

Source

We can throw off the shackles of upbringing,
place and purpose imposed or implied.
We can accept the clear blue sky,
the fertile land and the deep green sea
as our unlimited supply of raw material
from which to fashion our meaning and purpose in life.
Memory, instinct and intuition are our personal guidelines
from inside where the truth is to be found.
You are heir to the world and its future is yours.
Your physical control may be at arms' length,
but your spirit is part of the One Spirit,
universal in scope and powerful beyond measure.
Know that truth, and all else follows.

Ken Green
2007